

The Canadian Cochrane Network and Centre

Nova Scotia Cochrane Resource Centre

Cochrane Systematic Reviews Standard Author Training Workshop

Register for this free workshop to learn the basics of planning and conducting a Cochrane systematic review, including:

- developing a review question
- extracting data
- assessing study bias
- combining data, with and without meta-analysis
- using Cochrane software

December 9 & 10, 2009

Nova Scotia Health Research Foundation
1660 Hollis Street, Halifax, NS

Meals and refreshments provided

Registration Deadline: October 16, 4 p.m.
Capacity is limited to 20 participants.

To register contact Linda Waterhouse: waterhll@gov.ns.ca or 902-424-4537

For clinical trainees, clinicians, academics and researchers with an interest in or who plan to conduct a systematic review. Draft a research question and include with your registration. You will receive feedback on your question prior to the workshop, and will have the opportunity to refine it during the workshop.

The Nova Scotia Cochrane Resource Centre is funded by the Nova Scotia Health Research Foundation and supported by the Capital District Health Authority and the Health Policy Research Centre Initiative